Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed April 24, 2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant's central argument is with regard to the five references, are directed to the "substantially spherical housing." Applicant insists that all five of the references disclose an in-vivo device comprising of a cylindrical housing as opposed to the claimed "substantially spherical housing." However, it should be noted that according to the Merriam-Webster Online Dictionary, the term substantially means "being largely but not wholly that which is specified." Thus, the Examiner maintains that each of the five references disclose a "substantially spherical housing."

Conclusion
